Rapport du secrétaire général par intérim

Chers modérateur, vice-modérateurs, membres, conseillers et collègues,
Vos Éminences, vos Grâces, chers sœurs et frères en Christ,

Le monde a changé d'une manière que nous ne pouvions pas imaginer lors de la dernière réunion du Comité central à Genève en 2018. Par la grâce de Dieu, nous sommes à nouveau réunis pour la première réunion en ligne du Comité central. Je remercie chacun d'entre vous d'avoir fait de cette réunion une priorité.

Je tiens à remercier notre ancien secrétaire général, l'évêque Olav Fykse Tveit, pour son encouragement spirituel aujourd'hui et pour son leadership dans une période de changement sans précédent. Avec notre modérateur, il a dirigé la réponse du COE au début de la pandémie, encourageant les églises à faire tout leur possible pour protéger la vie. Évêque Olav, votre héritage continue de nous guider et nous vous en sommes reconnaissants.

Je tiens à remercier les dirigeants du Comité central et les membres du Comité exécutif pour leur formidable engagement. Nous avons été confrontés à de nombreux défis au cours de l'année écoulée et votre leadership nous a apporté stabilité et orientation. Je tiens aussi à exprimer ma profonde gratitude au personnel du COE, qui a ouvert la voie à de nouvelles manières d'engager nos églises membres et nos partenaires œcuméniques.

Lorsque l'on m'a demandé de prendre la responsabilité de secrétaire général par intérim, la tâche devait être de courte durée. Mon mandat dure déjà depuis plus d'un an, et il a été prolongé jusqu'à la fin de l'année prochaine pour assurer et coordonner les préparatifs de la prochaine Assemblée. Avec vous, je reste déterminé à diriger le Conseil alors que nous poursuivons le Pèlerinage de justice et de paix jusqu'à la 11e Assemblée qui se tiendra l'année prochaine à Karlsruhe, en Allemagne.

Mon rapport sera bref. Depuis mai de l'année dernière, nous avons publié et partagé avec vous des rapports de responsabilité mensuels. Cela nous a rapprochés dans une période de distance physique. Les rapports montrent comment nous nous sommes adaptés et combien notre travail pour l'unité et la réconciliation est pertinent. Dans ce rapport, je veux me concentrer sur la manière dont nous nous sommes adaptés et comment le thème de l'Assemblée nous inspire – car au milieu de la pandémie, nous avons vu comment «L'amour du Christ mène le monde à la réconciliation et à l'unité».

Le COE en temps de pandémie

Comme l'a décrit avec éloquence notre modérateur, la pandémie de COVID-19 a pris le monde au dépourvu. Elle continue de causer d'énormes souffrances ainsi que d'exacerber les inégalités existantes et émergentes. Le monde entier continue d'être touché. Notre unité, en tant que famille humaine et communauté d'églises, est plus importante que jamais.

Nous vivons une période de grande souffrance; nos églises ont perdu de nombreux membres et dirigeants. Cependant, en tant que personnes de foi, nous continuons dans l'espoir, car notre Seigneur Jésus-Christ est ressuscité, a vaincu la mort et a donné la vie et un sens renouvelé au monde.

Les églises membres ont fait preuve d'une résilience et réactivité hors paires pendant la pandémie. Vous faites tous partie de ces disciples transformés qui ont permis à l'église de rester vivante et dynamique.

La pandémie continue de toucher l'ensemble de la communauté fraternelle. Pour le secrétariat du COE, la pandémie a nécessité de soutenir les églises membres dans leur lutte contre la pandémie, de reporter l'Assemblée d'un an et d'adapter les méthodes de travail.

Ce qui nous a inspirés, c'est l'amour de Dieu en Christ pour toute la création et le but premier du COE en tant que communauté d'églises s'appelant mutuellement «à l'unité visible en une seule foi et en une seule communauté eucharistique exprimée dans le culte et dans la vie commune en Christ» (Constitution du COE, article III).

Le plan stratégique du COE continue de guider notre travail en cette période de changement. Le Pèlerinage de justice et de paix est une orientation stratégique forte qui maintient la communauté fraternelle unie. Nous avons beaucoup appris au cours des deux dernières années. Certaines des leçons importantes sont rapportées dans l'addendum proposé au plan stratégique (GEN PRO 03). Je souhaite mettre en évidence certains éléments qu'il me semble important de garder à l'esprit alors que nous travaillons ensemble cette semaine.

Les limites imposées par la pandémie ont poussé le COE à accomplir de nombreuses tâches de différentes manières. L'adaptation la plus importante a été le recours accru au travail en ligne. Même si nous souhaitons ardemment nous réunir en personne, nous voyons un avenir dans lequel les méthodologies hybrides offrent de nouvelles possibilités de travailler ensemble.

La pandémie a été l'occasion de communiquer davantage avec les églises membres et les partenaires. La coopération régionale s'est accrue, notamment avec les organisations œcuméniques régionales. Cela permet de maintenir les églises au centre de nos efforts communs. Les consultations régionales du Pèlerinage de justice et de paix sur le COVID-19 sont un exemple d'une nouvelle ère dans la prise en charge commune de la communauté.

Comme de nombreuses églises se sont adaptées à la prière et au culte en ligne, le COE en a fait autant en offrant des possibilités de prière mondiale, régionale et quotidienne. Cela a été l'un des développements les plus inspirants – être plus connectés par la prière – prier les uns pour les autres et prier ensemble pour nos églises et notre monde.

La pandémie a rendu plus visibles de nombreuses inégalités existantes, notamment le péché du racisme. Avant la pandémie, nous avions prévu de relancer le travail du COE sur la lutte contre le racisme après l'Assemblée. La pandémie nous a montré que nous ne pouvions pas attendre, car en Christ, chaque vie compte. Il devrait être prioritaire pour chacun d'entre nous d'engager les églises à venir à bout du racisme, de la discrimination raciale et de la xénophobie. Un nouveau poste et un nouveau programme pour «Vaincre le racisme» ont été créés en janvier 2021.

Une grande partie de notre travail s'est poursuivie avec de bons résultats, mais notre travail d'édification de la paix, en particulier en Terre Sainte, a été confronté à de nombreux défis. Des activités telles que le programme d'accompagnement œcuménique en Palestine et en Israël ont été fortement touchées. Je suis très fier de la manière dont nous avons réagi en écoutant les besoins et les attentes des églises locales et en travaillant avec les chefs d'églises locaux et nos partenaires dans le domaine de la construction de la paix pour remodeler, consolider et renforcer les activités du COE à Jérusalem.

À Genève, le chantier de construction de Green Village a ouvert en mars 2020 au centre œcuménique, opérant également en situation de pandémie. Bien que le marché immobilier ait connu des pressions, de bons progrès ont été réalisés vers nos objectifs pour le projet de développement immobilier.

Bien que la pandémie ait entraîné des défis financiers, la générosité des églises membres et des partenaires œcuméniques nous a aidés à poursuivre notre travail et à préparer notre communauté vers l'Assemblée.

Préparation du COE à l'Assemblée

Nous espérons vivement que nous nous réunirons à Karlsruhe l'année prochaine et c'est ce que nous sommes en train de planifier tout en considérant les différents scénarios pour les exigences sanitaires et de santé. Je tiens à vous assurer que le Comité exécutif, en collaboration avec les églises hôtes, suit de près la situation, en s'appuyant sur les faits et les conseils des experts de la santé.

Je suis reconnaissant au Comité de planification de l'Assemblée, sous la direction de Son Éminence le métropolite Gennadios de Sassima, pour son engagement. Je suis également reconnaissant pour le travail du Comité de planification des cultes de l'Assemblée, sous la direction de la pasteure Elisabeth Krause-Vilamar.

Le rapport du Comité de planification de l'Assemblée (GEN PRO 02) présente une vision pour une Assemblée profondément enracinée dans le thème – «L'amour du Christ mène le monde à la réconciliation et à l'unité». Il propose un ordre du jour qui engagera les délégués dans la prière, la réflexion, la conversation et l'action. Beaucoup de travail a été accompli et nous sommes sur la bonne voie pour une grande assemblée.

Le thème a pris une nouvelle signification à travers l'expérience de la pandémie. Notre théologie trinitaire, qui, au fil des décennies, a été développée, articulée et acceptée dans les documents du COE, nous aide à voir l'amour du Christ dans le contexte de l'amour du Dieu trinitaire pour le monde entier, qui s'est pleinement manifesté dans l'incarnation en Jésus-Christ.

Quand on parle de l'amour du Christ, on parle de l'amour kénotique et aveugle de Dieu en Christ pour toute la création. C'est l'essence même de notre foi. En prenant cette direction, nous avons aussi réaffirmé l'orientation de la Conception et la vision communes (CVC) du COE, qui affirmait que la réconciliation et l'unité sont le but final de Dieu en Christ pour l'humanité et la création (Colossiens 1:19) et qu'elles sont illustrées par la compassion du Christ pour ceux qui souffrent dans Matthieu (9:35-39) et dans de nombreux autres passages des quatre évangiles. Cette perspective a ouvert des voies théologiques solides pour le dialogue et la coopération avec le monde.

La réflexion sur le thème de l'Assemblée publiée en ligne en janvier développe cette interprétation dans le contexte de ce à quoi les églises et le monde sont confrontés aujourd'hui, notamment:

- le COVID-19 et ses conséquences;
- l'urgence climatique;
- le racisme et les inégalités sociales et économiques croissantes;
- l'affaiblissement de la démocratie par des politiques autoritaires de peur et de haine; et
- les conséquences ambiguës de la révolution numérique.

L'amour du Christ ouvre l'horizon de l'espérance. En tant que communauté d'églises, nous restons fidèles à notre objectif fondateur qui est de promouvoir l'unité des chrétiens afin que le monde croie. En même temps, il est tout aussi important de réaffirmer que le dessein de Dieu en Christ est d'amener le monde et le cosmos tout entier à la réconciliation et à l'unité. Alors que la communauté du COE se prépare à se réunir à Karlsruhe pour la 11e Assemblée, l'expérience des églises face à une pandémie mondiale continuera à façonner notre compréhension de la manière dont «l'amour du Christ mène le monde à la réconciliation et à l'unité».

Ordre du jour du Comité central du COE

Comme l'a affirmé le modérateur, l'ordre du jour de notre première réunion en ligne est limité. Nous espérons atteindre trois objectifs importants:

1. Renforcer notre communauté fraternelle en partageant et en priant ensemble.
2. Recevoir les demandes d'adhésion au COE, reconnaître les nouveaux partenaires œcuméniques et aborder d'autres questions relatives à l'adhésion.
3. Progresser ensemble vers la 11e Assemblée du COE à Karlsruhe.

Nous vous demandons également de prolonger le plan stratégique, la stratégie financière et la stratégie de communication jusqu'en 2022. Ces stratégies nous ont bien servi; elles continuent de nous guider à travers la pandémie et nous aident à préparer l'Assemblée.

À la demande du Comité exécutif, je joins à mon rapport une liste des affaires en suspens que le Comité central n'a pas encore traitées. Je tiens à vous rassurer que rien n'est perdu. La liste nous rappelle qu'il y a encore du travail à faire avant l'Assemblée. Si Dieu le veut, nous nous verrons en personne au début de 2022 pour achever notre travail.

Conclusion

La situation sanitaire mondiale continue de présenter de nombreux défis. Pourtant, dans la foi et l'espoir, nous poursuivons notre pèlerinage et affirmons que Dieu est le Seigneur de l'histoire, le maître de l'univers et que son intention révélée est d'apporter la vie, l'unité et la réconciliation au monde entier. En tant qu'intendants, gardiens et collaborateurs de la mission de Dieu, nous continuons à agir, à prier et à travailler pour que la volonté de Dieu soit faite. Nous nous souvenons de la promesse inébranlable du Christ aux disciples: «Je suis avec vous tous les jours, jusqu'à la fin du monde» (Matthieu 28:20).
