Preparing for a pilgrimage
of justice and peace
A Guide for Parishes, Missions and Ministries
INTRODUCTION

The World Council of Churches (WCC) is inviting member churches to join in a pilgrimage of justice and peace. As local members of this global fellowship, we are encouraged to explore the meaning of pilgrimage in our context and in light of our faith. This three-part study series is designed as a guide to that initial process of exploration.

What better time to engage in spiritual reflection than now!

Pilgrimage is embedded in the Christian faith tradition and in the traditions of our neighbours of other faiths. It is a form of faith development that involves both spiritual discernment and action.

Exploring the idea of pilgrimage

This series offers the opportunity to explore what “pilgrimage” means to us today; expand our knowledge of our community; and gather spiritual resources to sustain us.

Resources

In addition to resources suggested for each of the sessions, you will find prayers, hymns, Bible readings and background material in the “Pilgrimage Road Kit” at the end of this resource, and additional information about the WCC Pilgrimage of Justice and Peace at www.oikoumene.org.

You are invited to share any new resources you produce for your group on WCC’s Pilgrimage Facebook site and on Twitter at #whatisapilgrimage

Enjoy the trip! May it enrich your reflection and your experience of Christian discipleship.
PREPARING FOR A PILGRIMAGE OF JUSTICE AND PEACE

SESSION 1

Exploring the idea of pilgrimage
What does it mean for me and my faith community?

Opening prayer
God is with us in every pass, Jesus is with us on every hill
Spirit is with us on every stream, headland and ridge
and lawn;
Each sea and land, each moor and meadow,
Each lying down, each rising up,
In the trough of the waves, on the crest of the billows,
Each step of the journey we take.
(Adapted from Carmina Gadelica)

Bible readings
Genesis 12:1-6  Hebrews 11:8-12

1. What is your idea of pilgrimage? In what ways is it similar to the two passages we just read? How does it differ?

2. How were Abraham and Sarah transformed by their travels?

Thinking about pilgrimage in your life
A pilgrimage is a journey of moral or spiritual significance that can strengthen our faith.

3. If you have made an intentional pilgrimage, share that story.

4. Sometimes we are inadvertent pilgrims. Think about an experience you have had while on a trip that changed you or your way of seeing things.

5. What words or images would you use to describe that experience?

Transformative spirituality is what you experience when your faith is challenged and enriched by being in a new place or meeting new people.

6. Based on the idea of transformative spirituality and the stories you have just heard, what does the word pilgrimage mean to you now?

7. Does a pilgrimage that might lead to spiritual transformation excite or frighten you? What are your hopes? What are your fears?
Exploring possibilities for transformative encounters in our wider community

8. Who or what in your community would you like to know more about? Is there one group or place we all can agree to visit?

9. Would we like to make a pilgrimage to meet these people or visit that place? Alternatively, we might ask the group or a representative of the group to meet with us during our next session.

10. Would you prefer to learn about that place or group through the media?

Embarking on a pilgrimage

Think about how you, as a modern day pilgrim, might reflect the love of Christ in your community. Each day in our travels through our neighbourhoods or through the media, we encounter people.

11. Who would you like to know more about? What person or group would you like to know better?

12. How could we prepare to make a pilgrimage to meet these people?

13. Who else in your faith community or in your neighbourhood might want to join you on this pilgrimage?

Closing prayer

May the road rise up to meet you.
May the wind always be at your back.
May the sun shine warm upon your face, and rains fall soft upon your fields.
And until we meet again,
May you be held in the palm of God’s hand.
(Traditional Celtic blessing)

Spiritual preparation for next session

Start a pilgrimage journal. Write notes, make sketches, or take photos. Record what you’ve learned in this session. Note how you see your community as you travel through it in the days following this session.

Pray. Say the opening and closing prayers from this session at the start and end of each day until you meet again.

Bible study. Re-read the Bible texts and reflect on what you heard in the discussion about them.

Outreach. Offer to help identify and bring guests or media resources to the next session.
Exploring our neighbourhood
What can we discover that is new to us?

Greeting

We come together conscious of our hopes for our families, our community, and ourselves. We come together conscious of how much there is to learn about each other and the community we share. We come together in the hope of building new connections and strengthening those that already exist. In this, we are somewhat like modern day pilgrims. May we enjoy walking together!

(Kristine Greenaway)

Reading

The point of travelling is not to arrive but to return home laden with pollen you shall work up into honey the mind feeds on. (R.S. Thomas)

1. How does this quotation reflect our hopes for our time together today?

Getting to know each other

2. Where is home to you?

3. How did you travel to get here?

Seeing our neighbourhood through new eyes

4. What do you like about our shared neighbourhood and what worries you?

5. What are you doing in response to those worries or what would you hope to do?

6. What is new to you?

7. What concerns do we share? Are there any that we would like to explore further together?

8. What resources do we have that could help us respond to these concerns?

Closing

Read the R.S. Thomas quote again. What word or image will you take home to illustrate the phrase “pollen for honey”?
Opening prayer

Dear God, as we gather we bring with us our hopes for our families, our community, and ourselves. We come together conscious of how much there is to learn about our community. We are pilgrims in your world. May we be guided to follow you in the way Jesus showed us. Amen

(Kristine Greenaway)

First Bible reading

Exodus 3: 1-5

1. What places are sacred to you? Are any of them in this community?

2. What makes them sacred?

Earth’s crammed with heaven,
And every common bush afire with God;
But only he who sees takes off his shoes,
The rest sit round it and pluck blackberries.
(Elizabeth Barrett Browning)

3. How do these lines add to your understanding of the Exodus passage? What do they say to you about pilgrimage in sacred places?

Sharing images and stories about our neighbourhood

Tell the group about the story or issue covered in the material you brought.

4. Are any of the places described sacred to you? Why?

5. What do you like about these stories and what worries you?

6. What images and key phrases emerge as we share our reactions to these stories and images of our community?

Second Bible reading

Exodus 3: 16-18

Reflect in silence about the Bible reading and the concerns identified in our community. Are there any concerns that our faith calls us to address together?
Spiritual preparation for next session

When you go home, pray, meditate, and reflect on how you might respond faithfully to the concerns raised during our time together.

Add to your pilgrimage journal. Note what you’ve learned in this session. Add pictures, drawings or newspaper clippings about sacred places in your community and about the concerns for them that you are carrying with you.

Reflect. Read the Bible texts from Exodus and say the closing prayer each day until we gather again.

Look around. Note any activities or groups in the wider community who share the concerns raised in this discussion.

Closing prayer

At all times and in every hour, you are worshiped and glorified in heaven and on earth, Christ our God. Long in patience, great in mercy and compassion, you love the righteous and show mercy to sinners. You call all to salvation through the promise of good things to come. Lord, receive our prayers at the present time. Direct our lives according to your commandments. Sanctify our souls. Purify our bodies. Set our minds aright. Cleanse our thoughts and deliver us from all sorrow, evil, and distress. Surround us with your holy angels that, guarded and guided by their host, we may arrive at the unity of the faith and the understanding of your ineffable glory. For you are blessed to the ages of ages. Amen.

(Daily Prayers for Orthodox Christians: The Synekdemos)
Opening prayer

O God, as we gather in this place, open our hearts and teach us how to view our life here on earth as a pilgrim’s path to heaven. Give us grace to tread it courageously in the company of your faithful people. Help us to set our affections on things above, not on the passing vanities of this world, and grant that as we journey on in the way of holiness we may bear a good witness to our Lord, and serve all who need our help along the way, for the glory of your name. Amen

(Adaptation of prayer from Hereford Cathedral)

Bible readings

Hebrews 11:8-16    Micah 4: 1-4

1. What were Sarah and Abraham leaving behind? What did they know of the places to which they were to travel?

2. How would our community be different if transformed to be like the description in Micah of God’s city?

Answering the call to follow in Jesus’ way

3. What does following in Jesus’ Way mean to you?

4. Are there examples in our community of people who seek to follow the Way? What are they doing?
Exploring what “justice” and “peace” mean to people of faith

5. Describe a situation in our community that is unjust. What it would be like if it were transformed into a just situation?

6. Name a situation in our community that is not peaceful and what peace would look like.

7. Some say there can be no peace without justice. Others say there can be no justice without peace. What do you think?

Imagining a pilgrimage for justice and peace in our community

8. How might a pilgrimage of justice and peace benefit others and enrich your faith? This might be a pilgrimage of personal spiritual development or spirituality-in-action as part of a group pilgrimage.

9. Who in the wider community might want to join in planning a pilgrimage?

Looking back over the road we have traveled together

Sit in silence to pray and meditate on what steps you feel called to take next with your faith community or in your personal spiritual practice. Note these steps in your pilgrimage journal.

Or write a word or phrase or draw an image that indicates where you see such a pilgrimage leading our community. Share what you have produced with the group.

Next steps

Keep adding to your pilgrimage journal. Write notes, make sketches, or take photos as you think about plans for a pilgrimage.

Reflect. Choose a prayer or song from these sessions to repeat each day.

Read. Remember these words from Psalm 84: 5.

Blessed are those whose strength is in you whose hearts are set on pilgrimage. [New International Version]

Outreach. Contact someone you met in these sessions who you feel may be a “fellow traveler.” Arrange to meet and talk about your next steps.

Share the news. Post to Facebook or Twitter #whatisapilgrimage

Prayer of blessing “Benedictus”

In the tender compassion of our God the dawn from on high shall break upon us,
to shine on those who dwell in darkness and the shadow of death,
and to guide our feet into the way of peace.
(Luke 1: 76-79 [ICEL])
Pilgrimage Road Kit

Blessed are those whose strength is in you, whose hearts are set on pilgrimage.
(Psalm 84:5)

Pilgrims travel with few possessions, packing only what is most essential. As a spiritual pilgrim, you will want to carry resources to feed your soul. Here then is a basic Pilgrimage Road Kit. Along the way, you will receive gifts that will nourish your spirit. Add them to your kit. They will make the Way easier and your burdens lighter.

PRAYERS OF GUIDANCE

Creator God, grant that by your tender mercy, the dawn from on high will break upon us to give light to those who sit in darkness and in the shadow of death. Guide our feet into the way of peace. Amen.
(Based on Luke 1:78-79)

God is with us in every pass, Jesus is with us on every hill Spirit is with us on every stream, headland and ridge and lawn; Each sea and land, each moor and meadow, Each lying down, each rising up, In the trough of the waves, on the crest of the billows, Each step of the journey we take.
(Adapted from Carmina Gadelica)

PRAYERS OF BLESSING

Bless to me, O God, the earth beneath my feet, Bless to me, O God, the path whereon I go, Bless to me, O God, the people whom I meet, Today, tonight and tomorrow. Amen.
(A prayer used by the Iona Community in Scotland)

May the road rise up to meet you. May the wind always be at your back. May the sun shine warm upon your face, and rains fall soft upon your fields. And until we meet again, May you be held in the palm of God’s hand.
(Traditional gaelic blessing)

PRAYERS OF GATHERING

O God, as we gather in this place, open our hearts and teach us how to view our life here on earth as a pilgrim’s path to heaven. Give us grace to tread it courageously in the company of your faithful people. Help us to set our affections on things above, not on the passing vanities of this world, and grant that as we journey on in the way of holiness we may bear a good witness to our Lord, and serve all who need our help along the way, for the glory of your name. Amen.
(Adaptation of prayer from Hereford Cathedral)

Creator, we come together conscious of our hopes for our families, our community, and ourselves. We come together conscious of how much there is to learn about each other and the community we share. We come together in the hope of building new connections and strengthening those that already exist. In this, we are somewhat like modern day pilgrims. May we enjoy walking together!
(Kristine Greenaway)

BENEDICTUS

In the tender compassion of our God the dawn from on high shall break upon us, to shine on those who dwell in darkness and the shadow of death, and to guide our feet into the way of peace.
(Luke 1: 76-79[ICEL])
PRAYER OF SAINT BASIL

We bless you, O God, most high and Lord of mercy. You are always doing great and inscrutable things with us, glorious and wonderful, and without number. You grant us sleep for rest from our infirmities, and repose from the burdens of our much toiling flesh. We thank you, for you have not destroyed us with our sins, but have continued to love us: and though we were sunk in despair, you have raised us up to glorify your power. Therefore, we implore your incomparable goodness. Enlighten the eyes of our understanding and raise up our minds from the heavy sleep of indolence. Open our mouth and fill it with your praise, that we may be able without distraction to sing and confess that you are God, glorified in all and by all, the eternal Father, with your only begotten Son, and your all holy, good, and life-giving Spirit, now and forever and to the ages of ages. Amen.

A PRAYER FOR ADULTS

At all times and in every hour, you are worshiped and glorified in heaven and on earth, Christ our God. Long in patience, great in mercy and compassion, you love the righteous and show mercy to sinners. You call all to salvation through the promise of good things to come. Lord, receive our prayers at the present time. Direct our lives according to your commandments. Sanctify our souls. Purify our bodies. Set our minds aright. Cleanse our thoughts and deliver us from all sorrow, evil, and distress. Surround us with your holy angels that, guarded and guided by their host, we may arrive at the unity of the faith and the understanding of your ineffable glory. For you are blessed to the ages of ages. Amen.
