The Ecumenical Review explores the potential and reality of Christian cooperation in faith and action. Founded at the same time as the World Council of Churches in 1948, it is published quarterly. Each issue focuses on a theme of current importance to the movement for Christian unity, including academic as well as practical analysis of significant moments in the quest for closer church fellowship, and action by churches and Christians together in the world today.

Current Dialogue

Edited by the Rev. Dr Peniel Jesudason Rufus Rajkumar

Current Dialogue is the World Council of Churches' journal on interreligious dialogue, offering a platform for debate to those who want to build bridges across religious divides and to their partners of different faiths. It addresses academics, interfaith practitioners, researchers, students, institutions, religious leaders of different faiths, and all those interested in the study of religions. Current Dialogue is published annually as a special issue of The Ecumenical Review.

International Review of Mission

Edited by the Rev. Dr Risto Jukko

The International Review of Mission is the leading journal on missiology with contributions from all over the world and from various Christian backgrounds. Founded in 1912, it is published twice a year by the World Council of Churches, and focuses on the ecumenical practice of mission, including a variety of theological perspectives. Articles on important mission events are presented along with book reviews and reports of conferences and consultations.
